Politics - Michael Portillo

Tomorrow (Thurs) SSLP sixth form students are invited to Dulwich College from 4pm to 5:15 to listen to the journalist, broadcaster, former member of parliament and past-deputy leader of the conservatives.

Michael Portillo has an open brief: his long career as a conservative MP and member of the Thatcher and Major governments qualifies him to speak on a range of current affairs. Email Richard Berlie to confirm places.

Philosophy - Chaplaincy Lecture

Alleyn's School have reserved 30 places for SSLP Schools but they must be booked by Friday 9th December before they are released to the growing waiting list.

On Thursday 18th January 2017 Michael Ramsden, the International Director for RZIM and joint Director of the Oxford Centre for Christian Apologetics, will give the annual Chaplaincy Lecture. Email Sue Miles to book a place.

Extended Project Qualification

Calling all teachers who are involved with organising the delivery of the EPQ, or similar in-house schemes. You are provisionally invited to JAGS on Tuesday 24th January at 13:45. We are proposing a two-hour conversation about how we all manage the EPQ; the differences and the similarities, the strengths and the weaknesses. We'll have the potential to explore things that we might do differently and things that we could do together. In order that we can gauge interest please let Robert Wallace know names and numbers by the end of term.

Last Week

Marxism—Old and New. On 30th November Dr Alex Sutton from the University of Chichester lead a lecture of Marxism at JAGS for students studying or with an interest in politics.

A Brief History of Everyone Who Ever Lived. Dr Adam Rutherford (BBC 'Inside Science') led this fascinating and engaging science talk exploring the themes of his book on the 1st December at Alleyn's school, Dulwich.

Partnership Opportunities

Glee - Would any school like to host an SSLP Glee day in February? Do you not have the space but have students that would love to be involved? Any contacts that could make it a truly memorable occasion?

Website - The SSLP website is keeping up to date with forthcoming events but it would be great to receive reports and photographs following the events. Please encourage your teachers to capture and share so we can show off the uniqueness of our partnership.

Science week - 10th to 19th March 2017. What are your teachers planning for Science week? What opportunities exist for our schools to work together for the benefit of students and teachers?

NQTs - Do your newly qualified teachers want an SSLP social during the spring term?
