English - Literary Festival

Spaces for JAGS Literary Festival on Monday 22nd May have filled up fast. However, it's still possible for Years 10 & 12 to see LiTTLe MACHiNe at 2.25pm when they present EPIC! a light-hearted look at what poetry is and what it has meant over the last 3,000 years.

To snatch these remaining spaces contact matthew.edwards@JAGS.org.uk Head of English.

General public tickets are still available for the 7pm evening performance of LiTTLe MACHiNe for £15 on Eventbrite (not suitable for under 14s).

Geography - Architecture

How Does London Grow? is a unique opportunity for Year 12 and 13 students with an interest in pursuing careers in architecture, planning or the built environment. On Thursday 25th May Dulwich College invites SSLP students to this renowned central London architectural firm where you'll meet industry experts and professionals.

STEM & MFL - Space Race

SSLP Year 9 students will be reaching for the stars over the next month, as they compete against each other and international Dulwich College schools to design and build the best water powered rocket. The International Space Race will include a poster and a flight recording both in a foreign language to be submitted by 24th June. To register your interest contact mairn@dulwich.org.uk.

MFL - Modern Languages Extension

Following a successful event last June year 12 students are invited to Alleyn's on Thursday 29th June to join a Modern Languages Extension. The afternoon will inspire, enthuse and galvanise before the summer those who want to study Languages at University. Please inform thorntoned@alleyns.org.uk on numbers asap.

MFL - MFL Conference

Will your MFL teachers be attending Southwark's premier MFL Conference on Tuesday 4th July? "Modern Languages and the Road Ahead" is an exciting opportunity for MFL teachers to hear keynote speakers and to join three workshops with their peers. Tickets cost just £35 (including refreshments and lunch) and should be booked now at www.dulwich.org.uk/CityHeightsMFL

Science - CREST Awards

Is it time your school became part of the Great British Science Club? Dulwich College joined this year when boys took part in the CREST Awards, conducting research projects of their own design including the effect of global warming on plant life, the possibility of using coffee as a fertiliser, designing a lens to concentrate sound and building a non-piloted aircraft.

As the CREST Awards celebrate 30 years in July now is a great time to find out more about the different levels and how the SSLP could get involved. Interested Science teachers are encouraged to take a look at the CREST Awards website and to contact admin@sslp.education if they'd like to get involved in an SSLP-wide programme.
