Art - Thumbs Up

On Thursday 15th June Dulwich College Year 13 art students will be hosting a private viewing of their work. The exhibition will span three exhibition spaces and take in every nook and cranny in between. You are invited to join them for 'Thumbs Up' between 6 and 8pm. This is the second of three exhibitions this term.

Geography - CPD

Do you teach Geography at GCSE? Do you follow either of the Edexcel courses? If yes, then you will really benefit from this Geography CPD which is being held at Alleyn's on Monday 19th June from 2pm to 3.30pm. The principal examiner will be providing insight on the new grading system. Hurry, places must be confirmed with Janet Carlsson carlssonjr@alleyns.org.uk by Thursday 15th June.

Music - SSLP Jazz Day

Is there a Duke Ellington emerging in your music room, or is the next Jamie Cullum jamming in the hall? Make sure they know about the SSLP Big Band Jazz Day on Tuesday 20th June at JAGS, led by the Artistic Director of the National Youth Orchestra. To confirm participants, music teachers should urgently contact Elinor Corp to confirm whether spaces are still available.

Science & MFL - Space Race

Time is running out in the International Space Race. Students from across the SSLP are invited to team up with engineers and linguists to create the best water powered rocket that Southwark has to offer—and then to take on the world! Flight recordings and posters (in a foreign language) must be submitted by Sat 24th June.

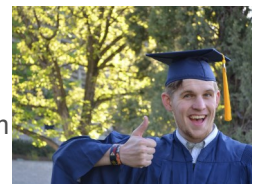

MFL - Three Events

Everything a Year 12 Linguist could want to know about studying languages at university will be available for discovery at the Modern Language Extension at Alleyn's on 29th June. For those who know they want to study Russian or another Slavonic language, then attendance on 1st July at Heroes of Our Time, Cambridge University is recommended. MFL Teachers shouldn't miss the Modern Languages and the Road Ahead conference on Tuesday 4th July.

University - Course Choices

It's the beginning of the end for Year 12, many will soon be picking their preferred universities and courses. Former pupils will be discussing University & Course Choices at Alleyn's school on Wed 5th July, whilst a team from Leicester University will be holding an information event for Medical Degrees on Tuesday 20th June at St Michael's Catholic College.
