

Southwark Schools' Learning Partnership Aspiring Senior Leaders

Wednesday 25th May 2022

WELCOME

This is the fourth and final session in our professional development programme for Aspiring Senior Leaders from SSLP schools.

Previous sessions were:

John Tomsett,
Curriculum Conversations

Chris Moyse,
Growing Great Teachers

Jessica McQuaid,
Behaviours of a Senior Leader

You are one of fifty six teachers from thirteen schools that have joined one or more of the above sessions.

Tonight you will get the chance to meet other participants as well as six local headteachers.

Southwark Schools
LEARNING PARTNERSHIP

Panel

SSLP Aspiring Senior Leaders

CATHERINE MAY

Catherine was appointed to the role of Headteacher at St Saviour's & St Olave's school in 2013.

Her first degree was from Exeter before going on to get an MBA. She has taught Maths in five London schools, across four boroughs and has held senior positions within three leadership teams. Catherine says her steepest leadership learning curve was as Head of Maths.

Catherine is Co-Director of SSLP.

Catherine loves to sew, bake and to follow the highs and lows of Fulham.

MARCUS HUNTLEY

Marcus has been Principal of Compass School Southwark since September 2017.

Marcus has taught in a range of schools in London since 2000.

A Religious Studies specialist, Marcus started his teaching at Wallington Grammar School, before moving on to Ernest Bevin College. He joined City of London Academy in 2012. He progressed through a range of leadership positions with an emphasis on developing whole-school teaching and learning.

Marcus holds a Master's degree in Education, a PGCE, and an undergraduate Bachelor of Arts Honours degree in Religious Studies and Art.

ALEX HUTCHINSON

Alex read Chemistry at St Edmund Hall, Oxford and subsequently obtained her PGCE. She has over twenty years of academic and pastoral experience. Her previous roles include teaching Chemistry at JAGS, Head of Science at St Mary's School, Ascot, Head of Sixth Form at both Central Newcastle High School and Wimbledon High School and Deputy Head at Woldingham School. She was Headmistress at Woldingham for 4 years, before returning to JAGS as Head in September 2020.

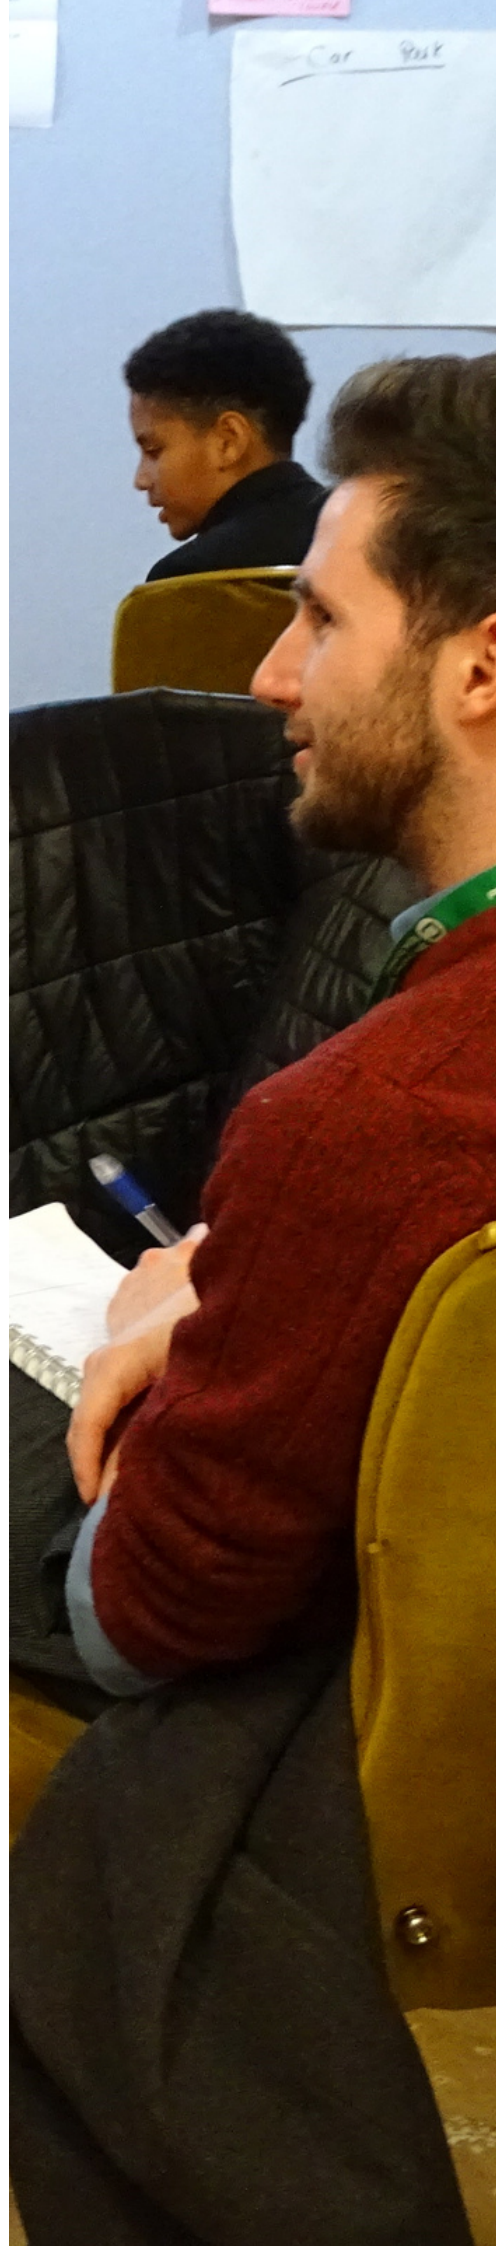

In her spare time, Alex is a keen walker and vegetable grower and a lover of the great outdoors.

PETER BROUGHTON

Peter Broughton joined Westminster City School in 2018 as Headteacher. He has worked in education for the last 23 years, having previously been employed at schools in London and Japan. Prior to his appointment, he was the Deputy Headteacher at St Saviour's & St Olave's school.

Peter was born in Surrey and attended The Royal Grammar School in Guildford before reading Theology at the University of St Andrews. He also spent a year as an exchange scholar at Queen's University, Ontario.

Peter is a keen football fan and regularly attends matches at Crystal Palace Football Club with his boys. He enjoys all sports but particularly playing golf, walking and countryside adventures.

JOSEPHINE OKOKON

Josephine has 16 years experience of senior leadership at multicultural London schools. Holding a number of senior roles including her current position as Headteacher of St Martin's Academy. She has also been an Associate Headteacher, Head of School, Deputy Headteacher and Assistant Headteacher. In addition, she has lead two English departments for 6 years and held the role of senior designated safeguarding lead.

Josephine holds a Masters Degree in Education Leadership. She credits the key to success in her leadership roles as a focus on developing and empowering others.

JOE SPENCE

Dr Joseph Spence FRSA has been Master of Dulwich College since 2009. He was Headmaster of Oakham School from 2002, having taught history and politics at Eton College, where he was Master in College (housemaster to the King's Scholars) from 1992-2002. He was educated at the universities of Reading and London. Joe has served on the governing boards of a dozen maintained and independent schools. He jointly leads Southwark Schools' Learning Partnership (SSLP). Presently a trustee of the Mark Evison Foundation, Art History Link Up and the Dulwich Picture Gallery, Joe is also a playwright and librettist.

He writes and speaks on many topics relating to education, leadership, Drama and Irish history and literature.